SIXTY-NINTH YEAR

First Pair Of Eskimos Picked up

Mercy Plane Flying To Cambridge Bay From Fort Ross

First two of eight plague-ridden Eskimos at Cambridge Bay, 400 miles within the Arctic Circle are enroute to hospitalization in Cambridge Bay today as the RCAF begins the final chapter in its largest peacetime mercy mission.

Shortly before noon today one of two RCAF mercy planes from North-West Air Command in Edmonton made a successful landing on a makeshift runway at Fort Ross and took off again at 12:23 p.m. Edmonton time for the return flight to Cambridge Bay.

RUNWAY HAZARDOUS

Piloted by FO E. D. Harper, the aircraft landed after more than a week waiting at Cambridge Bay, but due to extremely hazardous conditions of the temporary runway, could only remove two Eskimos at a time. Further operations into the area will be carried out until all ailing Eskimos have been rescued.

Barst relief information received at North West Air Command at Edmonton today indicated that the plane, piloted by FO E. D. Harper, landed on a roughly marked out flight strip at 11:40.

EIGHT SERIOUSLY ILL
The eight Eskimos are all reported as being in serious condition, and are being swept the village, 44 miles to the north, claiming the lives of nine natives.

RUNWAY MARKED OUT

A lone white resident of the area, Ernest Lyle, marked out an emergency runway for the two craft after bringing the stricken Eskimos to the 44-mile strip of snow by dog sled during the past five days. Cresswell Bay is 37 miles north of Fort Ross, and 44 miles to the north of Lyle's camp, where landing was effected.

It is reported that NWAC that the suffering Eskimos would be taken to Cambridge Bay, base of operations for the northern mercy mission. Because of bare details regarding conditions of the flight, it was not known whether they would be brought to Edmonton.

Today's successful landing in the barren area climaxes what RCAF experts described as an "almost impossible" operation. More than one month's planning went into successful execution of the mercy flight, touched off following three-month delay in reports from the Arctic which told of the disastrous plague.

House Destroyed In Noon-Hour Blaze

Four-year-old Beverly boy, Lawrence McGee, was burned to death at noon today. This is the second fatal burning within two weeks.

Two others escaped from the two-story house of the 140 on 11th avenue and 38 street, which caught fire at 11:30 this morning.

Frantic efforts of neighbors and relatives to reach the screaming child, trapped in an upstairs room of the blazing house, were defeated by intense heat and rapidly spreading flames.

Cries of the child, reaching his grandmother, Mrs. Kate Simmon, who was wearing clothes in the basement gave the first warning that the house and its inhabitants were in danger.

Rushing from the basement, Mrs. Simmon, an elderly lady fought her way upstairs through smoke and flames. With a visitor to the house, William Charvet, she attempted to enter the child's room. Her efforts proved unsuccessful, and the child and Mr. Charvet were forced to leave to save their own lives.

Charvet received severe burns to the hands and face in his rescue bid. He was taken to the hospital.

Within a short while the house, a wooden frame structure, was burned to the ground.

Mrs. Simmon, who is the guardian of the dead child and his elder brother, Terence, aged seven, was cared for by neighbors.

The cause of the fire is as yet unknown. Joining in the fight to save the trapped child, was P. J. Goss, secretary-treasurer of Glenora and Constable Hasan Nickerson.

This is the second time within the past week a young child has been trapped and burned to death in the home. Michael Zosak, three, was recovering today at Bellevue hospital from a third attempt to kill his own baby, because she was not fit to be nursed.

Don't Miss John Gunther's Revealing 'Inside Europe today'

The man who has travelled more countries than any other author will take Bulletin readers "inside Europe" with first-hand reports and impressions of post-war Continental conditions and "cold war" tensions.

Beginning Tuesday, John Gunther's latest series of articles will appear daily in The Bulletin.

They represent the best work of this noted foreign correspondent, who is probably foremost living political reporter.

His picture in painstakingly chronicling details, his exclusive behind-the-scenes reporting, and his ability to tell the truth in a way that is both revealing and readable.

For Edmonton readers, Gunther's latest reports will bridge the gap between history and contemporary events, and make the leading personalities of world politics human and familiar.

Don't Miss John Gunther's Revealing 'Inside Europe today'

Like his famous "inside books," "Inside Europe," "Inside Asia," "Inside Latin America," and "Inside U.S.A.," the 12 articles which will appear in The Bulletin, are based soundly upon on-the-spot study of present-day conditions in Europe.

During his recent European visit, he interviewed not only leading political figures but also the peasants, factory workers and "little people" of the continent. Their seldom-voiced opinions are faithfully recorded, and their places in delicate political situations and current history are revealed.

While seeking out and interviewing people for himself, he has, in his latest series as in his "inside" books, tried to balance his personal feelings with careful reporting.

Gunther wanted to be a foreign correspondent from the time he was a boy, and he has been a reporter for the Chicago Daily News at the age of 22.

When he was refused a foreign assignment he worked his way to Britain on a ship, and he worked for the Chicago News-Letter bureau until reports of this manœuvre reached Chicago.

Boom Town Full Only on Surface

Edmonton On Threshold Of Greatest Expansion Ever

By Lloyd Jenkins
Anywhere in Canada—with one exception—people will tell you that the city with greatest prospects for the future is Edmonton. The exception is Edmonton.

"City of the future," "Gateway to the North," "Air Crossroads of the World." If Calgary had not adopted it first, it would be "Canada's Oil City." With Turner Valley on the west and the Leduc and Redwater fields in its infancy, that is already beginning to be an empty title.

Before I came to Edmonton everyone in the East talked of the city in glowing terms. Even those who came to Edmonton were in the newspapers or a location on a map talked of my new home with enthusiasm. To hear them tell it, Edmonton and the North were the hope of Canada's future.

All of this may be true. But any resemblance between the Canadian gold rush of 1899 and the Alberta black velvet search of 1949 is difficult to discern in Edmonton.

A miner looking for a saloon and stumbling into a revival meeting would be a stranger finding Edmonton the "boom town."

During the early oil exploration which followed the Leduc discovery a Toronto broker, who had just come back from a visit to Alberta, said to me: "We in the East have been waiting for the day when the importance of the discovery."

Since that time some idea has seeped through in the East. But St. Laurent's realization of its importance, perhaps more than any other factor, has helped to make it difficult to tell in Ottawa a number of federal government officials almost identical words to me: "They don't even know what they're sitting on!"

That has become fairly evident. But why? Why? Why? The most common explanation is: "We are too close to it." But irrespective of its logic, that is far from a full explanation.

I gathered statistics in an attempt to get an explanation. What I did find was that certain figures have to be treated with caution. Take, for instance, income tax returns. That has become fairly evident. But why? Why? Why?

From the figures themselves and "background" talks which accompanied their acquisition, certain general conclusions were reached. Fact—in most lines, Edmonton's progress in recent years has only been comparable to progress of the province as a whole.

Possible explanation—(1) Delayed reaction. (2) Oil does not bring as many direct benefits as is often contended. (3) Lack of accommodation for the province as a whole.

TORONTO, Feb. 14.—(CP)—Mrs. Sam Carr reached Toronto last night and said she planned to start organizing her husband's defence against charges that he is a Russian spy.

A tiny dark woman with white hair and ready wit, she said she was going to arrange for counsel for her husband, but had not yet decided whom to retain.

Reporters asked her about her future plans should her husband be convicted. She replied: "I'm sure he's not guilty of the charge."

St. Laurent Clarifies Radar Network Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Sunday discounted speculation that Canada and the United States are considering joint extension of North America's radar defences.

As the Union States, prior to his departure for Ottawa by train after a week-end as guest of President Truman, reporters asked the Canadian prime minister in clarity if he had made statements in a press conference.

"Did you say—as you have been interpreted as saying—that talks of this type are under way between Canada and the United States?" he was asked.

"No," said Mr. St. Laurent. "I did that there were no plans being prepared by some people doing preliminary planning involving a whole network across the north country. And I said that some stations have been put into operation—Loch, long range and so on—navigation and weather stations."

Reporters asked her about her future plans should her husband be convicted. She replied: "I'm sure he's not guilty of the charge."

He said he did not know who the "planners" are and that he is unable to say whether the Chiefs of Staff have actually studied his suggestions.

The Prime Minister agreed to an observation by his special assistant, J. W. Pickerskill, that "studies" is a better word than "plans" in talking of radar defence matters.

He described them as "quite preliminary studies" and added: "I know there were some of these studies which involve very considerable capital investment and considerable resources."

St. Laurent said before his departure that he and President Truman included the St. Lawrence Seaway and Hydro Project in their 70-minute talk Saturday.

He declined to "interpret" the President's views of that subject but said Truman reiterated his belief that the proposed navigation and hydro-electric plans should be undertaken simultaneously.

He was accompanied to the train by St. Laurent's special assistant, Stanley Woodward, United States Chief of Protocol, and St. Laurent's special assistant, Stanley Woodward, United States Chief of Protocol, and St. Laurent's special assistant, Stanley Woodward, United States Chief of Protocol.

Also at the station were the Canadian Ambassador and Mrs. Hume Wrong, Canadian Minister of State, and Canadian Counsellor George McGinn.

The special constable at the Arena told police they had been arguing loudly and resisting his attempts to make them leave. He added that they have caused trouble before.

Two other instances involving juveniles were also noted on week-end police reports.

Illegal Sale Brings Fine

For selling a bottle of liquor for $5 in a downtown cafe Sunday, two city men were fined $400 and $300 and costs, respectively, when they pleaded guilty in police court today.

Merchandise Magnate Blasts High Prices

The man who built a merchandise fortune on price-sale price differential turned a heated verbal attack on Canada's current high prices today.

He is Hon. W. C. Woodward, of Vancouver, head of the C. Woodward departmental stores and former lieutenant-governor of British Columbia.

Here on a routine inspection of store facilities, the twinkly-eyed Canadian business leader reeled only a mention of the current high cost of living to make him replace the twinkle with fire.

"Canadian prices coming down? If they're not, they should," he said. "To say a drop in Canada's prices is overdue is putting it mildly, they are ridiculously high and the sooner they come down the better for everyone."

In United States commodity prices have been on the decline for more than a year, he said, "but in Canada we're way behind; our prices are still going up."

ISSUES CHALLENGE
He urged those who would challenge his statement to seek out the facts and compare Canadian and American prices. "The very fact that our buyers favor the American market is proof that States prices are returning to normal while Canadian prices are still out of line."

For Edmonton, Mr. Woodward predicted continued prosperity. "You haven't a thing to worry about with all the black gold or whatever romantic name you give the oil that's pouring out of Leduc field."

WILL CONTINUE
Expansion of his company's facilities will continue for the next few years, Mr. Woodward said. Store extension now under construction here is expected to cost about $200,000 and plans are underway to enlarge Woodward's warehouse next year.

Mr. Woodward is accompanied by his Edmonton visit by J. W. Butterfield, general manager of the Woodward departmental stores.

18-Month Term For False Pretences In Edmonton

Eighteen months hard labor was ordered for John H. Pulk of Edmonton for obtaining $13,000 advances on order for an illegal company.

On appearing on remand in city police court today Pulk who last week pleaded guilty to three charges of false pretences and one of theft, was ordered to make restitution. When arrested he had $600 of the money.

He had under the guise of a "big business" front and a downtown office, received the money as representative of Canadian Airlines Limited, an unregistered company.

Among the orders taken by Pulk were some for heavy wood-working machinery.

Stolen Cab Is Abandoned

A taxi driver was temporarily unemployed over the weekend when his taxi was stolen outside a downtown hotel Saturday midnight. Theft occurred when the driver was in the St. Elmo hotel informing his customers of his arrival.

Twenty-four hours later, police discovered the missing vehicle at the rear of the Bon Ton Motel Market, where it apparently had been abandoned. It was undamaged.

City Measles Epidemic Strikes Nearly 1,000

Previous week 143 cases were reported, and victims since the epidemic started now number close to 1,000.

Throughout the province, 259 cases were reported last week, about three times the normal rate of the disease.

Varsity Building Program Will Hit Over $5 Million

BUILDING EXTENSION TO BLOCK 98 AVENUE

Extension of the Alberta government's Administration building on 100 street southward to cross 98 avenue was predicted in government circles today.

It is known the department of public works has been negotiating for property on the block between 97 and 98 avenues on 100 street, and the city is expected to acquire the block at its northern end.

If the building is extended, as present plans indicate, it will cover the lawn and small memorial garden on the south side of the present building, will block off 98 avenue and cover the first 100 feet of the next block.

Previous attempts of the department to acquire lots on the block were followed by premature publicity according to some government officials, who blamed the high cost of newspapers for an increase in the taking price of property concerned.

Confirmed by an announcement that the government has asked the city to block the avenue.

After formal identification of the body the coroner's jury under Chief Coroner D. M. J. Cantor was adjourned. Date for the final hearing is not yet decided, said Cantor, pending the availability of the police court.

The fatality occurred when Mr. Byers was undergoing the extraction of his teeth, he failed, to the count of the anaesthetic.

University of Alberta Alumni Association membership has doubled in the past four years.

"Organization of the alumni is so far in advance of other universities it is almost unbelievable," J. W. E. Markie, secretary-treasurer, reported to the annual meeting of the 29-member council Saturday night, at which H. W. Pittfield, Ed. Markie, president, presided.

Membership rose from 794 in 1941 to 2,062 in 1948. This year, 1,614 members already have paid dues.

Last year the association joined the American Alumni Association, which includes four American universities, as well as Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Alberta was ahead of its fellow alumni in having a permanent secretary and its own magazine.

The memorial scholarship fund started three years ago, collected $13,461, and a further $5,138 was pledged.

"Trail, B.C., will add a branch shortly to the 17 already operating in the West."

Members of Council attended from as far away as Ottawa, Ontario and Victoria, B.C.

At the annual banquet, also held on the university campus Saturday night, Neil C. McKernan was elected president of the Edmonton branch of the Alumni Association.

Other officers elected were Kathleen S. Bonde, vice-president; Bruce Collier, treasurer; and Dr. A. R. McEwen, Marion Bacon, Audrey Laddier, F. J. Edwards, and Allan G. Macdonald, members of the executive.

Council members attended the banquet, at which Fred Kilmer, geologist for Imperial Oil Co. Ltd., spoke on oil exploration in Alberta.

At Luncheon, Dr. Robert Newton, university president, was host.

Postwar building on the University of Alberta campus will reach between $5,000,000 and $60,000,000 before it is finished.

This was indicated by Varsity Editor Robert Newton in an address Saturday night at the annual banquet of the Edmonton branch of the U of A Alumni Association.

PROGRAM LISTED
Although Dr. Newton gave few figures in his brief, informal speech, he stated that the following is under way on the campus at present:

Rutherford Memorial Library ($1,500,000), student Union building (built by the students, expected to cost $500,000), new grounds building to house the grounds staff, additions to the former RCAF drill hall ($300,000), new workshop building (for the repair, maintenance and building staff), provincial laboratory of public health building ($200,000).

Plans will be started soon on a new agriculture and biological science building (although no official figures are available this structure will probably cost at least $1,000,000).

Besides the above, a new nurses' residence and two wings on the medical building have been completed within the last two years, and the expansion of the campus has resulted in the erection of numerous army huts for classroom use, and renovations in the arts and medical buildings.

Twelve officers and George Brailwaite have been appointed to form a liaison between district veterans and the newly formed veterans' branch of the U.F.A.

Farmer organizations in the Red Deer district dates back to 1908, when a local of the Alberta Farmers' Association was formed in Red Deer. At a joint convention in Edmonton the same year of the U.F.A. and the Society of Equity, the two organizations combined to form the United Farmers of Alberta, of which the original Red Deer A.F.A. local became a part.

Williams Nets Five Quick Goals

WAINWRIGHT, Feb. 14.—Centre Williams of Vermilion Tigers scored five times in 12 minutes, 48 seconds during the third period of Monday's game at Wainwright. Commando Williams added another in the third period as Vermilion won 6-2.

Brent McNabb, Jr., of Wainwright, and Capt. Dan MacLeod of Calgary added real strength to the Wainwright team in a 1-0 victory over the Tigers in the first period.

Mr. Gads had left Russia prior to 1908 and for a time lived in Harbin in China. It was in 1908 he came to Canada and for a time worked for Ed Johnson in Wainwright. Then for eight years he worked around the Malm district as a farm hand. Having saved sufficient money to enter the University of Alberta, he took an engineering degree. During the war he joined the airforce.

Because of his knowledge of European languages, including both Russian and French his services were required as an interpreter by the Allied Control Commission and as such had opportunities of observing the inner workings of the commission and particularly the Russian representatives.

He said it was not until ideologies took precedence over the general work of cleaning up Berlin and restoring some semblance of order that dignity became apparent and which still persists. The Iron Curtain Mr. Gads said, was the sum total of all the little iron curtains which every Russian carried with him. They lived in fear of each other and almost of their own thoughts.

The guest was introduced by Paul Monson and on behalf of the Wainwright club thanks were expressed by Dr. Johnson.

Stanley Stars As Canada Wins 47-0

Experts Still Claim U.S.,
Swedes Better Than Canucks

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 14. (CP)—Canada's Sudbury Wolves whiffed Austria 7-0 in their second game of the world amateur hockey championships and thus clinched the lead in their group of three teams.

Victory following their stupendous 47-0 victory over Denmark Saturday, qualified the Canadians as one of the six teams which advances to the round-robin playoffs.

The Wolves pressed hard against Austria from the opening whistle. Only brilliant saves by the Austrian netminder kept the first period scoreless.

In the second session, the Canadians scored three goals. Don Munro, Bill Dimmock and Joe Dilaniani were the marksmen.

Stanley is best. The best players in the game were Don Stanley of Edmonton and Alfred Huber, the Austrian goalie.

Despite Wolves' feat of scoring 47 goals against Denmark, their whitewashing of Austria, they have failed to impress the experts. They say Stanley is the only star player with the rest playing moderately good hockey.

The U.S. team and Sweden qualified for the round-robin playoffs with Canada. Sweden beat Czechoslovakia 4-2 and the U.S. trounced Norway 12-1. Both teams had won initial games Saturday.

SPECTATORS OPEN-MOUTHED. The spectators watched open-mouthed as the Wolves toyed with the Danish team, newcomers to the sport. Saturday, Jim Russell, who has seen world playoff action in a previous Sudbury team, scored eight goals. Tom Russell of North Sydney, N.S., was the second highest scorer with six tallies.

Stanley, Dilaniani and Munro led the hit men for five times. The remaining 18 goals were evenly divided among six others.

They were Ray Bauer, Hatcher, Joe Terjesen, Emile Gagne, Hilson and Dimmock.

The 47-0 trouncing was believed to be a record for world amateur competition.

Nolting Considers Esk Coaching Job

Ray Nolting, a 210-pound onetime professional star with Chicago Bears, was scheduled to return to Cincinnati early Monday. He had spent the week-end here conferring with the men badly trying to line up Edmonton's entry in the 1949 Western Interprovincial Rugby Football Union race.

Nolting's idea in coming on from his Ohio home by air was to look into the coaching prospects where the local grid aggregation is concerned. After an exhaustive study of the situation it is understood that neither Nolting nor the men who hope to hire a coach before March 1 made any commitments.

In the meantime he taken for granted that Annis Stukus, eastern Canada great, and a number of others still are in the running for the post.

Nolting asked Eric Duggan, chairman of the players' committee, for at least 10 days to think it over. It's known that the talks at the week-end reached the stage where salary was discussed.

Nolting knows exactly what remuneration he can expect eventually he reaches an agreement with Duggan, president of Murray Montague and other local executives.

At this time there's little likelihood of the mentor from Cincinnati or anyone else being offered more than a year contract to pilot the Eskimos.

Nothing played with Chicago Bears in the years 1934-1944. During those seasons the Windy City crew copied off three National Football league crowns. They reached close to their peak while swamping Washington 7-0 in the 1940 finale. Half back Nolting graced the Redskins' line for one of the Chicago major scores, completing the manoeuvre with a 20-yard run for a touchdown.

Cincinnati-born, Nolting is 26 years of age, has put on 20 pounds since hanging up, now weighs 210 lbs. He still is up and about, and is in pretty good shape. Once, during the 1944 season, he was named "coach of the week" among U.S. college strategists.

"You don't think I'd have come so far to look into the matter if I wasn't interested, do you?" Nolting answered one questioner. "He's a family man, being the proud father of a nine-year-old girl and a boy just 14 months."

BEARS IN THRILLING RALLY TO COP TITLE

Alberta Golden Bears have done it again. For the 14th year handrumming Chicago Mohr's green and gold clad squad has clinched the Halpenny trophy, representative of western intercollegiate pug supremacy.

That's some record, brother! Say it again.

Playing at the Varsity rink Saturday the Bears, sparked by the brilliant play of captain Jim Fleming, C. Thomas and Harry Hobbs, downed the ever-battling University of Saskatchewan Huskies 6-0 in an overtime thriller.

And Bears won it all in sensational fashion in this sixth game of the series.

Down 5-3, with less than two minutes to go the seventh game was scheduled for Saskatchewan. Teams netted at 18:47 to make it 5-4 and Hobbs came through with a lachrymose counter just 18 seconds from time to knot the score at 5-5.

By this time the close to 1,200 fans in attendance were limp with excitement.

COX NETS WINNER. Then, with the 10-minute over time session all but played out, Ken Cox took a relay from Thomas to blaze home the goal that put the cap on a great Alberta comeback.

Over the first two periods the teams battled along in 1-1 style. Art Meyer scoring for Huskies in the opening heat only to have Fleming reply for Bears in the middle cant.

Hobbs and Thomas fired three period tallies for the green-and-gold, with Jimmy Owen, Jack Fulton, Jim Hay and Lynn Wilkinson working through Bear defences as Hobbs zoomed ahead 5-3 and seemed to have things well in hand.

But they reckoned without Thomas and Hobbs in those last two minutes. And then Cox rolled it in for fair.

Max Bentley Hot As Leafs Win Two

Delisle Sniper Scores Four;
Gus Bodnar Badly Hurt

MONTREAL, Feb. 14.—(CP)—The No. 3 and No. 4 spots in the National Hockey league have new tenants today—and the big reason is a fellow named Max Bentley.

The little centre from Delisle, Sask., contributed four goals over the weekend. They played a major part in a pair of Toronto, Maple Leaf victories that moved the world champions into third place ahead of Montreal Canadiens.

Bentley had two goals Saturday night in a 3-1 win over the league-leading Detroit Red Wings. He scored the other two Sunday against the sagging New York Rangers who dropped lower into the cellar by virtue of their 3-6 defeat.

There were no other changes in the standings but there was one note that might suggest a change in the making.

HAWKS WIN
The revitalized Chicago Black Hawks scored a 4-3 Sunday home victory over Montreal Canadiens and moved within two points of the fourth playoff position.

In other games Boston Bruins further consolidated their hold on second place by defeating Rangers 4-2 Saturday night and then playing a 4-4 draw with Red Wings Sunday night.

Chicago, while apparently on the comeback track, suffered a tough break when Gus Bodnar, 27-year-old centre, suffered a possible fractured jaw and brain concussion.

The accident occurred when the game was only 15 seconds old. On the first face-off Bodnar was knocked to the ice, suffering a cut beneath his chin. He was knocked unconscious by Murph Chamberlain's shot.

HAMILL, CONACHER GET TWO
Red Hamill and Roy Conacher scored two goals for the Bruins in a 2-1 victory over the Canadiens Sunday night.

A burst of scoring in the last period brought Red Wings back from what looked like sure defeat at the hands of Bruins.

Red Wings were down 4-1 going into the last period. Johnny Peiron had scored two for Boston while Ed Sanford and Paul Reiser settled the other. Pete Horvack had one for Detroit.

Then Gordie Howe, Bud Poole

CHIEF THUNDERBIRD ... After a scalp.

Rube Wright, Thunderbird To Grapple

Chief Thunderbird, Saanich Indian from Vancouver Island, returns to the local "rattle" wars as the Stock Pavilion Tuesday night. He meets Rube Wright in the semi-final match on Al's weekly card.

Thunderbird last "rattled" here some three years ago, losing the decision to Earl McCredy, one-time Empire title.

Al (Mr. Murder) Mills and Frank Murdoch are back in the main event. This will be a best-of-three falls, no-time limit variety.

Sue Hart, Edmonton's gift to the mat game, takes on Gene (Flowery) Brown in a Bontine special. Tex Wilkins and Dallard Oullette clash in the opener.

Dinner Gong Wins San Antonio 'Cap
ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 14.—(AP)—Dinner Gong clinched an easy victory in the $200,000 San Antonio handicap Saturday and sounded a threat for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap two weeks away.

Longer-priced challenger in a race of seven, Dinner Gong raced to a five-length triumph over Auckland. War Trophy was third.

Winner paid $22.60, $10.10 and $3.30.

Zale Will Attempt Title Recovery Against Cerdan

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(IUP)—Zale will attempt to recapture the world middleweight title for the second time in April or May, in a Chicago title fight with champion Marcel Cerdan, it was learned Sunday night.

Matchmaker Chickie Bogard, announced that Zale had sent official notification to the T. of C. that his contract for a return bout with Cerdan of Morocco would be carried out.

Bogard said he didn't know where or when the return scrap would be held. However, it was learned from other sources that the T. of C. had decided to stage it at the Chicago Stadium, in co-operation with the stadium promoters.

T. of C. brass had wanted the Cerdan-Zale tilt held in April or May so that the winner can defend during the summer against the winner of a non-title bout between Ray (Sugar) Robinson, welterweight

Leafs, EAC Close Junior Schedule on High Note

The curtain came down on the regular schedule as Maple Leafs and EAC closed their season with a 6-2 win in a Junior Hockey league game played at the Arena Saturday night.

Final league standings finds Maple Leafs on top, followed closely by EAC, with South Siders and Canadiens a distant third and fourth. The 88 aggregation will clash with EAC in the league semi-final, winner to take on Leafs in the title. Playoff dates will be announced later.

Ken Watson paced Leafs to their victory in the first contest, scoring four big goals and assisting in a fifth. The little pivot's clutching splash enabled him to draw level with teammate Bill McNally at the top of the point parade. Both Watson and McNally wound up with 43 points, unofficial figures show.

McNally, not used nearly as much as Watson in the Saturday finale settled for two assists. Other Leaf marksmen were Orr Barry and Doug Macaulay.

U of A Head Fears Costs

Rising Expenses May Force Finance Change

Rising costs of university operation are presenting such problems that there may be drastic revisions of university financing and operation.

This was pointed out by Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University of Alberta, in an address Saturday night at the annual banquet of the Edmonton branch of the U of A Alumni Association.

Dr. Newton stated that increased costs, which are "bound to continue growing," may result in federal government financing of Canadian universities.

The rising-cost situation has become serious enough that a special survey of university financing will be conducted this spring, the prexy said.

He stated that U of A would be "struck" if the Dominion government cannot be induced to continue financial assistance as it has with student veterans.

Dr. Newton stated that increased costs, which are "bound to continue growing," may result in federal government financing of Canadian universities.

Within two or three years, all veterans will have left the university, but enrolment will continue at 70 to 80 percent above the pre-war level of registration.

Dr. Newton said he would be "surprised" if U of A experienced ever falls below 3,500 students. The 1939-40 registration was under 2,000 students.

He revealed that the National Conference of Canadian Universities is asking the federal government to continue subsidizing of Canadian universities.

Citing the tremendous post-war bulge at U of A which will total over five and a million dollars before it is completed and and secret staffs necessary to reach the influx of students, Dr. Newton said that the welfare of the nation, in other ways besides national defence, depends on well-trained people who get their training at Canadian universities.

He stressed that "higher education does not mean mass education."

VARSITY PAIR PLEASE IN SUNDAY RECITAL

One of the most enjoyable concerts of the season was presented by the University Musical Club Sunday night in Convocation Hall, when the varsity pair, consisting of Helen Stewart, pianist, and William Kelly, baritone, as guest artists, made their first appearances at formal recital in Edmonton, and they were heard by the largest audience to attend a Varsity Musical Club concert this year.

Miss Rogers has a brilliant technique, coupled with the sensitivity of interpretation that mark the true musician from the mere key-pounder, and is without a doubt one of the foremost of this city's musical talent.

City Motorists Given Novel Driving Tests

More than 600 Alberta motorists were tested for driving efficiency by the Edmonton St. John Ambulance recently.

Developed during the war by the United States Army, the test judges drivers' steadiness, vision, night vision, distance judgment and reaction time, by his operation of various machine devices.

E. C. Emmott, provincial secretary of the St. John Ambulance Association, and T. W. Foster, member of the Association here, built the machine from plans issued by the American Automobile Association.

Attempt is under way to have the tests made compulsory in Alberta for persons applying for chauffeur's licenses.

NOSE TROUBLE NO ALIBI, MAN DRAWS FINE

After blaming his trouble on a bothersome nose, an Edmonton man Patrick Barr, was fined $40 in city police court Saturday for being drunk. Stated by Magistrate A. L. Miller to have been a regular visitor to court, he was given an alternative of two months hard labor.

Other fines for intoxication were imposed on Ray Ploft and John D. Harper.

Car Dealers To Ask City For Licenses

Licensing of used car dealers will be considered by city council tonight.

Delegation of used car dealers will appear before council urging enactment of a bylaw to regulate the sale of used cars.

They will request that all used car dealers be licensed, and that posting of a $3,000 bond be a prerequisite to the granting of the license.

Under the proposed bylaw a used car dealer is described as any person who buys or sells or deals in any second-hand or used automobile of any description.

The bylaw does not include any person who deals primarily in new automobiles.

REPORT PURCHASES

Dealers will be required to report all purchases of used cars, and also to report vehicles left for sale. This report must be delivered to the chief of police within 24 hours of completion of the transaction.

Automobiles purchased or left for sale cannot be sold or removed from the used car lot until 48 hours after the purchase report has been filed with police.

It is the intention of persons purchasing or removing used cars must be supplied the police.

Wage Dispute Before City Council Tonight

Negotiations deadlocked between city commissioners and members of the electrical workers' union will be reviewed by aldermen at tonight's meeting of council.

Union members are asking for an increase of 35 cents an hour for all classifications above the apprenticeship category.

Two proposals have been made to the electricians by the commissioners and both have been rejected.

Commissioners, therefore, are asking aldermen to authorize them to proceed to arbitration of the wage dispute.

The proposals made by the commissioners were an increase comparable to that given other civic union members. This increase was based on a sliding scale linked to the cost of living index.

Under the proposed bylaw a used car dealer is described as any person who buys or sells or deals in any second-hand or used automobile of any description.

The bylaw does not include any person who deals primarily in new automobiles.

Pattern Perplexities For the Home Sewers

By Bea Thrifty

I'm as tired as tired can be. This Monday turned out to be a hectic shopping day instead of a weary wander.

At the crack of 9:30 I was away to the bargain counters. And I did manage to come away with some.

I bought yards of heavenly material for the apron and summer wardrobe... cottons... crepes and linens.

Come the revolution in the cotton world and I'll dispense with crepes altogether.

The Totall and Lyster fabrics, guaranteed crease resistant and non-creasing, come in a sunny array of jewel-bright colors and handsome prints. Good enough these top-of-the-line fabrics are expensive.

Early this morning I rushed into the store and bought a dress of cherry linen-brocade. It sold at $1.49 per yard. And I hope to have a very swift frock from this piece of heaven.

I've picked up in passing a few gems in the ways and means of the needle... and pattern-sewing. For instance, if you buy the same brand pattern all the time, the discrepancies between the pattern and your figure will be the same in each case.

This was a chart of differences would be a help.

"Nothing thing... if you have a wee camel's hump from years of poor posture... don't despair! you can make a dress to fit the hump."

At the hump's centre on the pattern... make a slit about three or four inches. Spread it enough to give allowances for your "extra bit of back." Now when you try the dress on, it won't draw at the shoulders and wrinkle over the shoulder back.

If the top half of your arm is inclined to be more plump than the bottom... there's a way to subtly change the pattern without spoiling the "charm" of the sleeve.

About three inches from top shoulder make your slit and spread it as much as you need. This will interfere with the armhole fit... and will make the sleeve gracefully and easily extend the offending "plump" arm.

And remember that your iron is the most important weapon in the war against the "homemade line." Press "thru" seams as you go along. But remember to test your fabric for heat, stretchability to such before getting carried away with enthusiasm.

But back to the buying... and a word about fabrics which are easy to sew... and fabrics which aren't.

For the needlework novice, cottons are the easiest things to sew. Beware of flimsy georgettes, velvets, stretchy crepes, corduroy plaids and stripes which must be matched.

Once you've conquered the initial intricacies of pattern instructions, the whimsies of the sewing machine and your own impatience... you can go on to more detailed styles, more expensive and "elegant" materials.

Right now I must away and cut my cherry Totall... if I don't get started right away I'll never have it ready for that first dash of spring.

Opponent Singleton Can Stygmie Slam

By William E. McKenney

Today's hand presents quite a problem. Many of us might miss it, but we would not get up from the table and quit in anger. We would deal out a new hand and try again.

Getting back to the hand, the opening lead of the ten of hearts is won by declarer with the ace. To give you the actual problem, I should not show you the East and West hands, because in doing so, the fact that West has a singleton diamond is disclosed.

South: ♠ K 10 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass 5 ♠ Pass 6 ♠ Pass 7 ♠ Pass 8 ♠ Pass 9 ♠ Pass 10 ♠ Pass 11 ♠ Pass 12 ♠ Pass

With the East and West hands revealed, many players would make the mistake of cashing the king of diamonds, then leading the king. West would ruff the second diamond and lead a trump. Now declarer could not ruff out the rest of his diamonds.

The correct play is to cash the ace of diamonds and then lead a small diamond. The second diamond trick, of course, is a loser. East wins it. But there is nothing he can do. If he leads a trump, declarer wins it and still has two trumps in dummy with which to ruff out the other two losing diamonds.

By a simple safety play, declarer assures himself of his contract of six-trick. But remember what I said if you go down on a hand like this—just pick up the deck, deal them out and try the next hand.

Before the advent of candles the easel, an ally of Pacific coast fish and game, was a good, but some of it is used for lighting purposes.

How, for instance, can a couple of kids who have quarreled like mad and make up if they never get enough together to even speak?

YOUR BABY AND MINE

If Spoon Is Shunned Try Diluting Food

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When the tiny baby is given horrid-tasting medicines by spoon, or when its uses cause her to choke painfully, these experiences may sour her against the use of a spoon.

Mrs. W. H. H. writes: "I have a five-month-old baby who is shunning the spoon. She still refuses to take food by spoon." She writes, "I have tried cereal, fruits and vegetables."

"I was hoping that if I diluted a week she would accept it, because she would get hungry enough. I do not want to force the spoon. She now takes a lot of water and tablespoons of malt sugar. I have even cut down on the amount of sugar, but this doesn't help any."

She is obviously being well satisfied by her formula and so lacks the desire for more food. Continue to reduce the sugar, one tablespoon at a time, until she has developed an appetite for other foods.

Meanwhile, I would try giving her foods in another way. Some mothers manage this by diluting the food until it will go through the bottle nipple. But it can also be served by cup and that would be the preferable way.

Dilute the cereal with her formula until it is soupy enough to drink. You can home-cook any of the fine cereals, or use the prepared baby cereals for this.

Offer one or two teaspoonsful of this way before she is given her

I don't think she'll balk at drinking them. Do this twice daily with cereal, about with her 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. meals.

Both fruits and vegetables, if they are the canned, sieved type, are almost soft enough for drinking. If they are not, add some of the formula to the vegetables and dilute the fruits with orange juice. You should not let the refusal of food by spoon prevent you from getting the food she needs into her by other means, with no forcing.

Our leaflet, No. 22, "Formula and Early Feeding," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Action, Mystery In Strand Bill

Western Story And Thriller
Provide Exciting Attraction

A stellar double feature attraction is offered Strand theatre patrons.

The first half of the twin bill sees Dick Powell and Jane Greer, costarring in RKO Radio's "Station West" while Priscilla Lane and Lawrence Tierney, share lead roles in a murder, mystery-thriller, "Bodyguard."

"Station West" offers a realistic conflict between an army lieutenant and a woman who is a gambler and a woman who is a gambler and a woman who is a gambler.

Strenuous strongly etched characters and thrilling gun duels, the action rises to a terrific climax. Dick Powell has another hard bitten heroic role, while Jane Greer plays the exotic woman on the other side of the law, but not with any sympathetic qualities.

Featured in support is a hurt but noted American folk singer and composer, in a dramatic part with vocalizations. Also featured is Agnes Moorehead in a powerful character role. The show presents the stars and cast in a vividly interesting, melodramatic performance.

An exciting murder plot plays RKO Radio's "Bodyguard."

An exciting murder plot plays RKO Radio's "Bodyguard." A hot-headed plainclothesman who is outwitted from the police force, and then, hooked into a job of guarding a wealthy woman owner of a large meat packing plant, Priscilla Lane is cast as a clerk in a police department and Tierney's fiancée.

Tierney soon discovers that his job is a part of a scheme to frame him for killing his superior officer. His frantic efforts to unmask the killer and clear himself lead to the film's stirring climax.

Both Tierney and Lane turn in stellar performances. In the supporting cast are Philip Reed, Jane Clayworth, Elizabeth Hilden and Steve Brodie.

Pope Says Mindszenty Trial Was 'Artificial'

ROME, Feb. 14.—(BUP)—Pope Pius XII told an extraordinary secret consistory of cardinals today that Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary had been forced to make a confession and called his trial "artificial and capricious."

The pontiff told the assembled prelates of the church that "the principal aim of the entire (Cardinal Mindszenty) sentence was that of upsetting the catholic church in Hungary."

Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment on charges of treason by a People's Court in Budapest in a three-day trial. Six co-defendants also were found guilty and sentenced to prison.

However, in spite of the length and the lack of security of information, we cannot omit mentioning the opinion which the civilized world has given about this judgment," the pope said.

Above all, about the excessive and suspect rapidity of the procedure, the artificial and capricious construction of the accusations, the physical condition of the cardinal, which is inexcusable without any doubt, the condition of a man, who until then was exceptionally energetic by nature and by conduct of life, a being that was weak of action, appeared to be an accusation not against the accused but against those who accused and condemned him.

TRUTH IS DENIED
"In particular we believe it is our duty to declare that which was stated during the trial is absolutely without truth."

He said the trial in Budapest used Cardinal Mindszenty as a means of attacking the Vatican by charging it with directing the Hungarian people to oppose the Communist government.

He praised the "ungaritan people" saying that "despite the fact that they found themselves in very grave difficulty, they did the utmost to defend their religion and to renew the glorious traditions of their forefathers."

Sixteen Cardinals attended the consistory, which lasted 90 minutes. The pope said he called the consistory to express his deep grief over the trial and sentencing of Cardinal Mindszenty, which he described as "a very grave event" and "indefinite to all those who declare themselves and are advocates of human dignity and liberty."

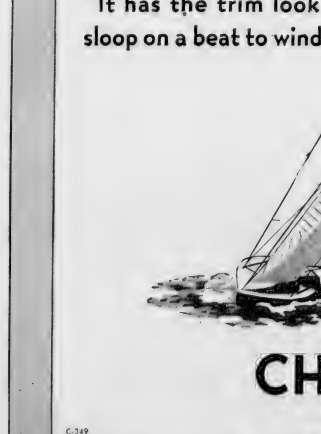

OTHER MAJOR POINTS
The pontiff also made three major points:

1. That the trial was a "most serious outrage" and was conducted without full light of publicity because "those who were conducting the trial in Budapest seemed to be afraid to allow all to see what was taking place."

2. That Hungarian charges against the Vatican were "completely false" and that the Vatican did not plan political domination of nations nor "give instructions to oppose the Republic of Hungary and its rulers."

3. That the world's 400,000,000 Catholics must unite in prayer "that those who rashly dare to trample upon the liberty of the church and the rights of human conscience may at length understand that no civil society can endure when religion has been suppressed and God, as it were, driven into exile."

Some people will say . . .
"It has the trim look of a sloop on a beat to windward!"

EATON'S INTRODUCES

Cameo Tones

FOR SPRING!

CAMEO BLUE

Soft as the hyacinth, clear as a sunny day.

CAMEO BEIGE

Reflecting the gentle warmth of summer sands.

CAMEO GREEN

Shadowy as Spring's first leaves, muted in tone.

CAMEO GREY

Soft as mist, flattering and feminine as pearls.

CAMEO PINK

Delicate as apple blossoms, feminine as the cameo itself.

CAMEO NAVY

A refreshingly new navy. Clear-cut as a cameo.

Paris endorsed them first—clear, sunny sparkling pastels as presented by Balenciaga, Dior, Piquet. Then the New York and London designers followed suit . . . they all loved the clear, gentle, paler tones! So with pastels very evidently the leading favorites, EATON'S selected for Spring five tender colors as fragile as a fine-etched cameo and as delicately flattering. CAMEO BLUE, CAMEO BEIGE, CAMEO GREEN, CAMEO GREY, CAMEO PINK — all specially dyed for us in lovely Spring Fashions!

Then we added navy, because it has never been more important. We present it first—CAMEO NAVY—in intriguing head-to-toe fashions for Spring '49. See Them in Our Windows and in Every Fashion Department Throughout the Store!
